| 1. Please describe the qualifications and experience that make you the best candidate in your political race.  |
| Answer: As a Certified Public Accountant, I have established myself as a seasoned professional in the financial realm and have also demonstrated entrepreneurial prowess by founding three flourishing small businesses. My educational journey includes attaining a Master of Business Taxation degree from the University of Southern California and a notable Public Leadership Credential from Harvard, reflecting my commitment to academic excellence and leadership development. Being a first-generation American who went through the legal immigration process, I bring diverse perspectives and a strong work ethic. My expertise lies in tax matters, financial management, and leadership, honed through business ventures and academic pursuits. As a result, I stand ready to contribute my multifaceted skills to Congress, bringing a distinctive blend of practical wisdom, academic acumen and my Christian faith. |

2. Please explain what you believe are the most significant issues in this race, why you are running for this position and what differentiates you from the other candidate(s).

Answer: In this race, my primary focus centers on addressing the economic crisis and promoting transparency, leveraging my expertise as a CPA. As a financial expert, I prioritize clear financial disclosure and open government practices to build trust, empower informed decision-making, and foster accountability. This approach lays the foundation for a robust and transparent economic recovery. In the diverse District 7, where the need for economic growth, accessible education, and healthcare are paramount, I am committed to tailoring policies to meet the unique needs of our community, fostering engagement, and addressing these pressing challenges. My distinct combination of financial acumen and a dedication to transparency sets me apart. I bring specialized skills to navigate complex financial matters and advocate for policies prioritizing openness. I will support targeted measures, such as tax incentives and strategic budget allocations, to help Texans navigate inflation challenges and contribute to economic resilience. My candidacy is defined by a commitment to practical solutions, transparency, and addressing the specific needs of District 7 for a thriving community. I understand how to account for money. Some of you may remember the day before 9/11, the Secretary of Defense, Donald, Rumsfeld, acknowledged that $2.3 trillion had been inadequately accounted for at the Pentagon. While this admission was quickly forgotten, the pattern of non-accountability in government remains a large unsolved challenge. In an era of crypto currencies, nominee accounts, and shell companies, it has never been easier to be unaccountable. With the Corporate Transparency Act coming into effect this year, the environment is more favorable than ever to bring accountability and transparency to the process of government

3. What will be your top 2 or 3 priorities during this upcoming term?

Answer: My areas of focus are on fiscal transparency and immigration. The first pressing issue is ensuring fiscal responsibility. I propose implementing stringent budgetary controls, regularly auditing expenditures, and promoting transparent financial reporting to instill accountability. The second key issue is immigration. I firmly advocate for a robust U.S. immigration policy. Prioritizing national security, I propose rigorous measures to secure our borders, utilizing advanced technology and increased personnel. This may include building a physical barrier depending on expert security advice. Simultaneously, I assert the need for effective legal immigration pathways, prioritizing skilled workers who contribute significantly to our economy. Through resolute policy changes, we can establish an immigration system that protects America's integrity while welcoming those who respect and abide by our laws.

4. What is your position about massive immigration over our southern border? Should the federal government renew financing and building the border wall with Mexico?
- Answer: Prioritizing national security, I propose rigorous measures to secure our borders, utilizing advanced technology and increased personnel, and I do believe this may include building a physical barrier and financial support of a border wall with Mexico. I understand the power of sensible immigration.
5. Should the US Congress legislate that November elections are under Federal control rather than the states regulating their own elections? What is the Federal government's role in setting voting rules and procedures for these elections, if any?
- Answer: I believe in the principle of limited government and the importance of states regulating their own elections. While ensuring the integrity of the electoral process is crucial, I advocate for a decentralized approach, allowing states to tailor voting rules and procedures to their unique needs. The Federal government's role should be one of support and oversight, ensuring that fundamental principles of fairness, transparency, and accessibility are upheld. Striking a balance between maintaining the sanctity of elections and respecting states' rights is essential for preserving the democratic foundation of our nation.
